A LETTER FROM OUR PRESIDENT

Even though Andrew Jarvis relocated to Florida several years ago, he has graciously served our shared cause of spreading poetry throughout the state with due diligence and skill. I’m sorry to say that he will no longer be with us as Newsletter editor to clean up my errors and ferret out PSV news and print worthy poems. Not being able to attend meetings from such a distance is a major part of his decision to resign his position, but it’s nice to know he’ll remain a member of PSV.

So welcome now Janice Hoffman, our new Newsletter editor.

Jan has taught creative writing in Indiana, Kentucky, and Virginia, and is currently an Adjunct Lecturer of English at Thomas Nelson Community College where she co-sponsors a monthly poetry reading. She has lived in Virginia since 2004 and says she greatly admires PSV and our mission.

Jan is a published poet with a remarkable publication history. In addition to her admirable literary magazine publications, her forthcoming book, Soul Cookies, will be released this summer by High Tide Publications. She was also runner-up for Poet Laureate of Hampton Roads in 2017. She has as served as the Editor of Musepaper, a publication of the Creative Writing Program at the University of Louisville, Kentucky, and Associate Editor of IUS Review of Indiana University Southeast.

She has also been a judge, presenter, reader, volunteer, and/or participant at a plethora of literary events. So, let’s do right by her by sending articles about our events and other matters. In the past, Andrew had to go to unpleasant lengths to get materials to print. There’s little reason for this. Not only do many of our coming events not show up in the newsletters, few successes are reported after the fact. Let’s celebrate our successes as well as print poems we have published that we still have rights to.

Bob
Festival Dates: Friday, May 17 through Saturday, May 18, 2019

All workshops, presentations, and readings: Tucker Hall, English Department, College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, Virginia 23187

Closing Banquet with Open Reading, Saturday evening: Ford’s Colony Country Club, 240 Ford’s Colony Dr., Williamsburg, VA 23188

• Registration fee: $40
• Saturday boxed lunch: $12 (Please see registration form for menu options, and make your selection.)
• Banquet: $25 (Please see registration form for menu options, and make your selection. All plated entrees include a side dish and salad, coffee/tea, taxes and gratuities; there will be a cash bar for other drinks. Dessert, compliments of the PSV.)

Please fill out the registration form, indicate your meal selections for lunch and the banquet, and send your check, payable to the Poetry Society of Virginia and postmarked no later than April 30, to: Sofia M. Starnes, 4951 Burnley Drive, Williamsburg, VA 23188.

Festival Schedule

Friday, May 17, Tucker Hall, English Department, College of William and Mary, Williamsburg

6:30 Registration
7:00 Opening remarks by Virginia Poet Laureate Henry Hart and introduction of Festival Keynote
       Presenter, Debra Nystrom
7:15 Poetry Reading, Debra Nystrom
8:00 Book signing and reception

Saturday, May 18, Tucker Hall, English Department, College of William and Mary, Williamsburg (except for Closing Banquet with Open Reading)

10:00 – 10:15 Registration
11:30 – 11:50 PSV Elections (PSV members)
11:50 – 12:45 Lunch and book-browse
12:45 – 2:00 Workshop by Marjorie Maddox, This Is Your Life: Making Characters Their Own People
2:00 – 2:10 Break
3:30 – 4:15 Announcement of Book Award winner and reading by Awardee*
4:15 – 6:00 Break
6:00 – 9:00 Closing Banquet with Open Reading, for attendees and their guests, at Ford’s Colony Country Club, 240 Ford’s Colony Dr, Williamsburg, Virginia

*If the winner of the PSV Book Award is unable to attend, we will host a panel by our guest speakers—Jefferson Holdridge, Marjorie Maddox, and Jon Pineda—on the subject “Anxiety of Influence: Inheritors of the past, originators of new pathways.”
Debra Nystrom, Keynote Presenter and Guest Poet, teaches in the MFA Program in Creative Writing at the University of Virginia. Her books include A Quarter Turn, Tom Sky, Bad River Road and most recently Night Sky Frequencies: New and Selected Poems. Her poetry, fiction and nonfiction have appeared in Best American Poetry, The New Yorker, Ploughshares, The Kenyon Review, Slate, The American Poetry Review, VQR, Harvard Review, Narrative, Conjunctions, and Yale Review, and have received awards from The Virginia Quarterly Review, Five Points, Shenandoah, The Virginia Commission for the Arts and The Library of Virginia. She is currently at work on a memoir.

Debra Nystrom will give a Poetry Reading, followed by conversation, on Friday evening.

Seminar description: This seminar will present an overview of Irish poetry, using home as a binding thesis. “From 1600 there is a discernibly Irish style of house,” writes Roy Foster. “The castle would take a hundred years to become the country house . . . often demonstrated even today, in the eighteenth-century farmhouse grafted on to a late medieval keep: a palimpsest of conquest.” The Irish house often exists in isolation, yet is defined by the surrounding landscape, whether the dark encroachments of nature around the Big House or the bogs and wells that surround the cottages of the peasantry. The tension between the two haunts the literature, from Maria Edgeworth’s Castle Rackrent, to Yeats’s The Tower and Other Poems, to Heaney’s “A Peacock’s Feather,” his sonnet sequence “Clearances,” and even the poetry of his last volumes. There will be occasion for audience participation.

Marjorie Maddox, Workshop Title: This Is Your Life: Making Characters Their Own People

Workshop description: Too often in creative writing workshops, poets create a narrator completely like themselves. Others haphazardly sketch a cardboard persona with little insight into how that person thinks, feels, acts, and reacts. To combat both, this workshop for poets, will focus on using several exercises to discuss voice and narrative, to experiment with point of view, to use diction to try on diverse personas, and, if time, to interview each other as characters.

Presenter’s Bio: Marjorie Maddox, Sage Graduate Fellow of Cornell (MFA) and Professor of English at Lock Haven University, has published 11 collections of poetry—including True, False, None of the Above (Poimedia Poetry Series; Illumination Book Award Medalist); Local News from Someplace Else; Wives’ Tales; Transplant, Transport, Transubstantiation (2004 Yellowglen Prize; re-release Wipf & Stock 2018); and Perpendicular As I (Sandstone Book Award)—the short story collection What She Was Saying (Fomite); and over 550 stories, essays, and poems in journals and anthologies. Co-editor of Common Wealth: Contemporary Poets on Pennsylvania (Penn State Press) and assistant editor of Presence, she also is the author of 4 children’s books.
Jon Pineda, Workshop Title: The Element of Surprise: Building Images in Poems

Workshop Description: The poet Robert Frost famously wrote, “No surprise for the writer, no surprise for the reader.” Though we may sense this maxim as poets, we are also inclined to fall short of our goal. In this workshop, the participants will be provided with writing prompts and exercises for generating “surprising” images for our readers.

Presenter’s bio: Jon Pineda is a professor of creative writing at the College of William and Mary. His work has appeared widely in such journals as Poetry Northwest, The Literary Review, Sou’wester, Prairie Schooner, Many Mountains Moving, and Puerto del Sol, as well as in various anthologies. Among his published books are Little Anodynes, 2016 Library of Virginia Literary Award for Poetry, The Translator’s Diary, 2007 Green Rose Prize for Poetry from New Issues Press, and Birthmark, first-place winner in the 2003 Crab Orchard Series in Poetry Open Competition Awards. His novel Apology won the 2013 Milkweed National Fiction Prize. His newest novel Let’s No One Get Hurt (Picador, 2019) was originally published by Farrar, Straus and Giroux.

LODGING (of special interest to out-of-towners)

Two blocks of rooms at special rates have been set aside in the following hotels:

Hampton Inn and Suites
1880 Richmond Rd., Williamsburg, Virginia
Tel. no. 757-229-4900

Please indicate “Poetry Society of Virginia, PSV Festival” when making your reservation for the special group rate: $129, plus tax per room, two queen-size beds. Includes full breakfast for two.

Holiday Inn Express and Suites
1452 Richmond Rd., Williamsburg, Virginia
Tel. no. 757-941-1057

Please indicate “Poetry Society of Virginia, Group Code PSV” when making your reservation for the special group rate: $115 plus tax per room, two queen-size beds or one-king size bed. Includes full breakfast for two.

NOTE: Reservations at the Hampton Inn and Suites need to be made by May 3rd to ensure availability at the PSV rate.

NOTE: Reservations at the Holiday Inn Express and Suites must be made by April 16 to ensure availability at the PSV rate.

PARKING

On Friday evening, parking is free and often available on Richmond Road, very near Colonial Williamsburg and the College, as well as in the Merchant Square lot.

For Saturday, the most convenient parking would be in the parking garage at Prince George Street, entrance at 230 N. Henry Street, approximately two blocks from the College of William and Mary. Tucker Hall (English Department) is the second building behind the Wren Building. Directions are easily accessible on line at https://www.wm.edu/about/visiting/campusmap.

If you have any questions, please contact Sofia Starnes, smstarnes@cox.net, or Mary Haines, mjshalom@cox.net.

---

The Poetry Society of Virginia wishes to express its heartfelt gratitude to those who contributed generously to its Poetry Festival, specifically, Paul Verkuil and his wife, Judith Rodin, Anne Willis, in memory of her husband, Prof. John Willis, as well as the English Department of the College of William and Mary through the support of Henry Hart, Poet Laureate of Virginia.
HOLDING ON TO LET GO
by Joan Casey

I shopped for a little black dress
because my husband said I put on weight, and asked my mom how it looked.

Hours later she slipped into a coma
and I admitted her to the hospital,
not knowing what else to do.

She had said she was ready to go long ago, when my dad died.
I won’t have talk like that I said.

We went to doctors
for appointments with more doctors, pep talks and pills.

When all else failed, I felt I failed her and wore the little black dress to greet people and grieve
in the way we are shown to do,
handcuffing our tears,
throwing dirt on a flower.

I packed up the past
for the trash and Goodwill and saved the sorrow
in a little pouch on the third shelf
of my closet,
where I left it when I moved.

Years later, driving down a strip of naked beach
sorrow caught up with me.

Why didn’t I just hold her hand to let her go?

MEDICAL EXAMINER
by Robert P. Arthur

Seawater winters in oblique light washed by rain
Terns skim the marsh waters
Ice scrapes the rushes
clean, the tumps, asleep,
slipping into shadow
Soon, white fire behind the pin-holed skein of dark will be stars
Shadows fall into my brain
like depakote and loxapine

I was not comprehensible, but there was a nurse to wash me.

The cottages with their curtains
have dreams of breathing
All night long there will be a prowling of dragonflies, in skulks,
heads dropping into moons
I am thinking of a darkened road, my best feet skittering, the black skimmers
of evening gone to roost with gulls
in the shallows

A woman is weeping but she is not my woman.

THE TASTE OF CONVERSATION  by Linda Partee

Recall the flavored words of young romance, those waltz-time murmurings of sweet nothings, like pink-boxed cremepuffs delicately soft with sugared sentiments and lip-licked dreams.

Forever friendships speak of yesterdays—
“remember whens” and “have you heard abouts”—
Hors d’oeuvres before tomorrow’s plat du jour;
aged cheese and wine that linger long on tongues.

In pressure cooker times for raising kids, can parents manage meaningful exchange between the Lucky Charms and fast food foil?
Is wisdom’s flavor slurped or dumped as trash?

Do hand-held gadgets fill the emptiness—those forkless, habit-forming finger foods?
Addictive like a bag of salty chips,
they don’t ease hunger more than biting nails.
ANNOUNCEMENTS

Deadline Extension for PSV Annual Poetry Contest
by Jeff Hewitt

To the Honorable Membership of the Poetry Society of Virginia:

To those who may not know me, let me take a moment to introduce myself. I have been a member of the Poetry Society on and off since the mid-90s. Over the past four years, I have served as member of the Board as a Literary Advisor and Webmaster. As of this year, I am also the Chair in charge of running both the Student and Adult Annual Poetry Contests.

Some of you have expressed dismay and concern over the unusual step taken this year with the deadline extensions of our annual student and adult contests. In the interest of full transparency, I wanted to take a moment to lay out the circumstances surrounding this year’s process which led to that decision.

Due to the recent government shutdown and the effect it had on financial markets, I—along with the President and other members of the Board—became deeply concerned about a sharp and significant decline in invested funds. As you may be aware, the Society is required by our by-laws to invest our operating capital in financial institutions. We rely upon those funds to conduct the business of the organization, which includes the administration of the annual contests.

While several options were discussed, ultimately, we decided that it was in the best interest for the long-term health of the funds we are entrusted to administer that the deadlines be prolonged in order to allow time for the market to recover value before contest expenditures were withdrawn. This was an emergency decision that was in my hands, as there was not sufficient time before the deadline to form a quorum with the full board to inform the proceedings. The President of the Society was consulted, and he approved the final decision. As the contest Chairperson, I have the highest respect for the traditions stretching back decades around our competition. This was not a decision I took lightly, and it was made in the interest of ensuring the long-term viability of the Society’s ability to continue funding these efforts for our soon-to-be next one hundred years.

Some members have expressed that they consider a deadline extension to be unfair in light of those who submitted within the original timeframe. After some consideration and consultation with the board, I agree with you. As such, we have decided to allow anyone who has submitted to edit and resubmit their entries if they so wish. You may do so by re-entering your submissions via our website at Poetrysocietyofvirginia.org. Any contest fees paid for the original submissions will be transferred to new submissions instead.

Again, to summarize:

• All Adult & Student Contest deadlines have been extended to March 31st.
• Any entrant who has already submitted may resubmit by reentering their poems on the website and choosing the “re-entry” option provided in the payment section. and all fees paid will transfer to the new submissions. We will be contacting all who have entered already via email to apprise them of the opportunity to re-submit.
• We are keeping the original rule that a valid entry must be previously unpublished and not scheduled for publication before May 1st.
• Contest winners will be announced and posted on the website by May 31st. At this point, we’re looking at mid to late June to hold the Awards Ceremony at the James City County Library in Norge. An announcement will be made on the website once the date and location has been secured.

I am available to discuss this further with any member who has questions or concerns via email at j.hewitt@me.com or by phone at 757.412.5642. I also stand ready to assist any member who needs help re-submitting or who has questions on how to do so.

I thank you for patience and understanding in these matters, and I wish you all success with your entries. Please do not hesitate to contact me with your concerns, comments, or questions.
ANNOUNCEMENTS

David Black’s double-dactyl entitled “Before the Written Word” was just published by the Virginia English Journal: www.amazon.com/David-Black/e/B075FXQYF9/ref=sr_ntt_srch_lnk_1?qid=1526409689&sr=1-1

Clay Harrison’s memoir, Wings of Faith, is available now from the publisher Lulu.com. The book is 282 pages of heartwarming stories from Clay’s life: childhood poverty, an Army MP during the Vietnam era, 32 years as a police officer in Tampa, Florida, and family struggles with muscular dystrophy, breast cancer, and heart attack, proving you can rise above your trials and tribulations on the Wings of Faith as you encounter angels unaware. The book includes 100 poems, family photos, original art, and letters from five presidents and other VIP’s for whom Clay has written poems. Cover art is by Danny Hahlbohm who painted Footprints in the Sand.

Andrew Jarvis was selected to attend the Bread Loaf Environmental Writers’ Conference at Middlebury College in June 2019. Congratulations!

Judith Stevens and Jack Callan have announced that their “Heal the World” Poetry Ensemble is performing on Sunday, March 10, 2019, from 1:00 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. at “The Fairmount Five Poetry Reading” in Norfolk, Virginia, 2931 Somme Ave., Norfolk 23509, for a repeat performance of the program presented to The Poetry Society of Virginia at the annual Holiday Luncheon in Williamsburg. In addition, PSV Poet Eric Forsbergh of Northern Virginia will be featured, followed by an Open Mic. FREE & OPEN TO THE PUBLIC. For information, call 757-622-8721.

Patrice Wilkerson has created a new website for her poetry book, “Through It All, I’m Going to Make It.” Please check her website: http://www.patricewilkerson.com/.

CONTRIBUTORS

Robert P. Arthur has four new books of poetry to be released over the next two years, bringing his total number of published books to twenty-seven. He is currently looking for agents for two new novels and a producer for three new plays, one written with Carolyn Kreiter-Foronda. “Medical Examiner,” written from personal experience, was published in Black Gum against Thunder, by Northampton.

Joan Ellen Casey, Ed.D., worked as an editor for New York publishers, authored many educational materials, then turned to writing poetry. She won the Metrorail Public Art Project Award from the Poetry Society of Virginia and has been published in the last five volumes of The Poet’s Domain and two other anthologies: Distant Horizons and Captured Moments.

Jeff Hewitt is a co-founding member of the Hampton Roads’ performance poetry scene, an interdisciplinary artist, actor, musician, and an award-winning photographer. He has been an active participant on nearly every poetry stage throughout the 757 for two decades and competed in poetry slams for over a decade, both statewide and nationally. He is a literary Advisor to the Board of the Poetry Society of Virginia, as well as the owner and Editor-in-Chief of San Francisco Bay Press, which has been publishing poetry and prose since 2006. In January of 2018, he launched a web-based photojournalism site, The Norfolk Antonym, covering local arts, music, and politics. Jeff’s photography has been featured at the Virginia Museum of Contemporary Art, and in 2018 he was named Hampton Road’s Promotional Photographer of the Year by Veer Magazine.

Linda Partee is a retired educator form California who didn’t realize she had a passion for poetry until she moved cross-country to Williamsburg, Virginia. Enjoying the creative process as much as the product, here work speaks to the common human experiences—its dramas, emotions, complexities, and beauty. A published poet, she is a member of the Poetry Society of Virginia, the James City Poets, the Williamsburg Poetry Guild, and Creative Critique. Linda also provides poetry instructions through the Osher Lifelong Learning Institute at the College of William & Mary; her work has received a variety of awards.

Guy Terrell is a former PSV President. After retiring, he co-wrote, with Jack Trammell, The Fourth Branch of Government: We the People and A Short History of Richmond published in December 2017. Prior to that, he has published poems in Streetlight (now an online journal) and in Tar River Review. Guy has a poem coming out this summer in an anthology devoted to Walt Whitman’s 200th birthday celebration to be called Lovelets.
POETRY VIRGINIA
1709 Memorial Avenue
Lynchburg, VA 24501

RAY/MARIN ABELL
4500 BASSWOOD WAY
WILLIAMSBURG VA 23188

PSV EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE & ADVISORY BOARD 2018–2019

President: Robert P. Arthur, robert.peebles.arthur@gmail.com
President Pro Tempore: Derek Kannemeyer, melned1@verizon.net
Southeast Regional VP: Mike Maggio, mikemaggio@mikemaggio.net
Northern Regional VP: Gail Giewont, gail.giewont@gmail.com
Central Regional VP: Terry Cor Joseph
Eastern Regional VP: Talya Chatman, tchatman4@csu.net
Treasurer: Melinda Nolen, Melinda.nolen@dom.com
Archivist: Warren Harris, wmharris@embarqmail.com
Adult Contest Chair: Melissa Watkins Starr, mwkstarr@hotmail.com
Membership Chair: Eric Forsbergh, forsber@verizon.net
Newsletter Editor: Melissa Watkins Starr, mwkstarr@hotmail.com
Nominating Chair: TBA
Out-of-State Coordinator: Linda Nottingham, nottlinda@aol.com
Parliamentarian: Ann Marie Boyden, ABoyden717@aol.com
Poetry In The Schools: TBA
Recording Secretary: Claudia Gary, claudiagary611@gmail.com
Student Contest Chair: Trilla Ramage, trilla17@verizon.net
Webmaster: David King, dking22@cox.net
Executive Directors: Barry Amis, bdamis@comcast.net
Stu Nottingham, notstu@aol.com
Ed Lull, ewlull@verizon.net
Joan Mazza, joan.mazza@gmail.com
Florence Martin, fskuhn@cox.net

Advisory Board
Ron Smith, smithjron@aol.com
Catherine McCormack, cpsavoy@gmail.com
Joshua Poteat, joshuapoteat@hotmail.com
Shonda Buchanan, shondabuchanan@aol.com
June Forte, home1270@msn.com

PSV EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE & ADVISORY BOARD 2018–2019

President: Robert P. Arthur, robert.peebles.arthur@gmail.com
President Pro Tempore: Derek Kannemeyer, melned1@verizon.net
Southeast Regional VP: Mike Maggio, mikemaggio@mikemaggio.net
Northern Regional VP: Gail Giewont, gail.giewont@gmail.com
Central Regional VP: Terry Cor Joseph
Eastern Regional VP: Talya Chatman, tchatman4@csu.net
Treasurer: Melinda Nolen, Melinda.nolen@dom.com
Archivist: Warren Harris, wmharris@embarqmail.com
Adult Contest Chair: Melissa Watkins Starr, mwkstarr@hotmail.com
Membership Chair: Eric Forsbergh, forsber@verizon.net
Newsletter Editor: Melissa Watkins Starr, mwkstarr@hotmail.com
Nominating Chair: TBA
Out-of-State Coordinator: Linda Nottingham, nottlinda@aol.com
Parliamentarian: Ann Marie Boyden, ABoyden717@aol.com
Poetry In The Schools: TBA
Recording Secretary: Claudia Gary, claudiagary611@gmail.com
Student Contest Chair: Trilla Ramage, trilla17@verizon.net
Webmaster: David King, dking22@cox.net
Executive Directors: Luisa Igloria, Luisa.Igloria61@gmail.com
Ann Shalaski, ashalaski@msn.com
Henry Hart, bw hart@wm.edu
Sofia Starnes, smstarnes@cox.net
Carolyn Kreiter-Foronda, cforonda@va.metrocast.net
Anna Evas, annaevashello@gmail.com
Archivist: Dr. Melissa Johnson, mejohnson@vcu.edu
Adult Contest Chair: Jeff Hewitt, j.hewitt@me.com
Membership Chair: Charles Wilson, charles.wilson4.ctr@navy.mil
Newsletter Editor: Janice Hoffman, janhoffpoetry@gmail.com
Nominating Chair: Jeffrey Hewitt, j.hewitt@me.com
Chair for Poet Laureate: TBA 2020
Development Chair: Sally Zakariya, sally.zakariya@gmail.com
Out-of-State Coordinator: Pia Borsheim, pia.borsheim@gallaudet.edu
Parliamentarian: Linda Nottingham, nortlinnda@aol.com
Recording Secretary: M.J. Kledzik, kledzikmj@gmail.com
Student Contest Chair: Cathy Hailey, haileycp@gmail.com
Social Media Coordinator: Pat Casey, pat.kwac@gmail.com
Web Designer: Trilla Ramage, trilla17@verizon.net

Communications Chair: David Anthony Sam, davidanthonygam@gmail.com
Festival Chair: Pia Borsheim, pia.borsheim@gallaudet.edu
Finance Committee Chair: Sally Zakariya, sally.zakariya@gmail.com
Book Award Chair: June Forte, home1270@msn.com
Virginia Chair/Editor: Ron Smith, smithjron@aol.com
Saturday Series contact: Tom Williams, thberkeman@aol.com
Chair for Poet Laureate: TBA 2020
Development Chair: Sally Zakariya, sally.zakariya@gmail.com

Literary Advisory Board
June Forte, home1270@msn.com
Ron Smith, smithjron@aol.com
Ken Sutton, thberkeman@aol.com
Tom Williams, thberkeman@aol.com
Pia Borsheim, pia.borsheim@gallaudet.edu
Sally Zakariya, sally.zakariya@gmail.com